Agenda : Monday,08 July 2019 - Tuesday,09 July 2019

The International Symposium on Marine and Fisheries Research (ISMFR) is a biennial symposium held by the Department of Fisheries, Universitas Gadjah Mada (UGM), Indonesia. This symposium is expected to be the primary focal assembly to share research outcomes and discussions on the role of fisheries and marine scientists in sustaining ocean ecosystems. The 2nd ISMFR 2017 has been conducted successfully and attracted 106 participants, with keynote speakers from Indonesia, Australia, Japan, Korea, and Malaysia.

The Department of Fisheries UGM is now delighted to announce that the 3rd International Symposium on Marine and Fisheries Research 2019 will be held in Yogyakarta, Indonesia from 8-9 July 2019. The symposium will consist of different emerging topics related to fisheries and marine sciences. The abstract and full paper should be submitted in English and will be peer-reviewed based on its originality and quality by the scientific committee. Participation will be encouraged from the broadest possible scope of groups from academia, government institution, and industry.
